To whom it may concern:

I am writing regarding my professional relationship with Ryan Chetaud of Chetaud Pro Builders. It has been about six years since our first of many projects in common. I am happy to say that my clients have all been pleased with both the quality of Ryan's work and his willingness to work with them throughout the construction process. I have appreciated Ryan's initiative in contacting and working with me regarding any changes or revisions that inevitably come up during the course of construction.

As Ryan is about to move to the principal position at Chetaud Pro Builders I am hereby providing my endorsement and am looking forward to working with him on many future projects.

Sincerely,

William Justi
